The History of Scottsdale Farms

As a way to help pay his college expenses, Luca Gianturco began Scottsdale Farms Christmas tree lots in North Atlanta. Shortly afterward, Luca and Kathy met in college and together they expanded Scottsdale Farms. Their Christmas tree business has been in operation since 1982.

In 1998, Luca bought the land to build their garden center. After visiting Vermont to look at barns and talk to timber framers, Luca designed the barn with an emphasis on simplicity and pleasing proportions. Two craftsmen from rural Vermont helped raise the wooden frame.

The barn was built mostly with untreated white pine and a small amount of Douglas Fir and White Spruce woods. In the men's room, the wood came from an oak tree that stood where the parking lot now is, and the old metal was recycled from the roof of a local barn.

Luca and Kathy's goal for the Christmas tree business, Garden Center, Café, Landscaping and Interior Decor business has always been the same: To provide quality products and service at a fair price, treat customers and employees well, and create a fun shopping experience.
